

Our environment is one of the most important aspects to survive on this planet. Moreover it is only thing that can make life sustainable without it we cannot survive even a single day. For instance, our skin will burn, the lungs will get ruptured, our blood pressure would rise. Furthermore, we will not have food and water to survive. And this will also be possible because of the imbalance of heat and atmospheric pressure. Thus it is important that we should take care of the environment. Also abandon all the exploitation that we are causing it.

World environment on 5th June every year. People from more than 100 countries celebrate this day. Furthermore world environment day is run by the United Nations environment programme. Since the year 1973. Above all the main purpose of celebrating this day was to spread awareness. The awareness was about the conservation of our environment. Moreover so also take various preventive measures to avert the effects of global warming. Since we all know that global warming is the root cause of the ruin of our environment. Therefore it is our duty to protect our environment. And stop all the exploitations that is destroying it. Because in the end, it is our basic need for our survival and our generations ahead.

On the environmental day, we all take a day off from our work. And join various campaigns to spread awareness about environmental protection. Moreover, we all plant small saplings in a barren land so that it may grow and flourish in the land area after some years. Also we take part in various processions to make people aware of this day. So that they may also take part in protecting our environment.

Furthermore in schools, the teachers teach the students the methods to plant a tree. The school provides buses to take the students to the jungles. There they come to know about the different types of plants. And the type of vegetation in which they survive. Also the students have to bring a sapling from Then come and plant them inside the ground. This helps them in getting practical knowledge.

We belong to the environment. It is very important for everyone's life because life is possible because of the environment. All human beings, animals, natural flora, trees, weather, climate all contained under environment. The environment not only works to maintain balance in the climate. But also provides all the things necessary for life.

Today science has promoted technology and there has been a lot of development in the world, on the other hand, they are also responsible for the increasing environmental pollution. Modernization, industrialization and the use of growing technology have adversely affected the environment. Man is harvesting trees and playing with natural resources due to his selfishness; due to which the environment is being severely damaged. Due to some man-made reasons, the atmosphere, hydrosphere etc are being affected, the temperature of the earth is increasing and the problem of global warming is arising, which is quite dangerous for human health. They all understand the importance of the environment, all of us should cooperate in saving our environment.
